The UL/ULC Firestop examination is designed to assess knowledge of the FCIA Firestop Manual of Practice (MOP), the UL/ULC Fire Resistance Directories, Systems Selection and Analysis, and the UL/ULC Qualified Firestop Contractor program requirements. The UL/ULC Firestop Exam is a three-hour, open book, proctored written exam based upon the FCIA MOP. For successful completion of the UL/ULC Firestop Examination, individuals must obtain a correct score of 80% or better, which is based on similar industry precedents and provides a benchmark of demonstrated knowledge in the subject area.

Eligibility
To be eligible to sit for the examination, the examinee must be an active employee of a specialty building construction contractor conducting business in the firestop industry. A contractor is considered active in the firestop business when the past, current or pending contracts include firestop work or specifications; OR, the person must be an active employee of a special inspection agency conducting business in the firestop industry seeking AC 291 certification.

FCIA Education Program
The FCIA Education Program, held on the same day as the exam, is a three-hour educational seminar that provides the attendee with a thorough understanding of firestop systems installation protocol and covers topics in the MOP, in addition to management systems. The program is designed to be taken in preparation for the UL/ULC Firestop Industry Examination.

PLEASE NOTE: You must provide government-issued picture identification the day of the examination in order to test.
